tribe not really doing anything of note, until they attacked a Mormon emigrant train and killed 120 settlers. That was known as the Mountain Meadows Massacre. The Shoshone tribe were simple hunter gatherers who ate bison meat as their main source of food. The Ute tribe didn't really do that much, except fragmenting into many bands of around 20 members. Finally, the Navajo are the second largest tribe in the entire United States.

(Editor's note: Early next month, Aaron and his family will be moving from Bowfin Street to a new home near Salt Lake City, Utah. Aaron had been
